Arrests, Including two Women, 54 in Afrin during October 2019

54 Arrests, Including two Women, in Afrin during October 2019

Arrests have declined in October compared to previous months due to the olive harvest season and the participation of the groups controlling the region in the "Operation Peace Spring"

Turkish forces and allied armed groups of the National Army,<sup>1</sup> have decreased their detentions and arrests in the Kurdish-majority city of Afrin to 54, including a woman, in October compared to the 127 they made in September,<sup>2</sup> according to STJ field researchers. Most of those arrested were released on bail while the rest were transferred to central prisons and command centers in the area and some others are still unaccounted for.

This decrease in the number of arrests was primarily due to the start of the “Operation Peace Spring” in northeastern Syria, in which Turkey put thousands of its soldiers, who were distributed in the area, and to the fact that October is the olive harvest and press month, as members of the armed groups in this month monitor the harvest and press process and force olive trees owners to pay them money in the form of royalties and/or taxes.,

According to statements of locals and observations of the field researchers, the Military Police and the Civil Police Service conducted the bulk of the arrests, while the Levant Front, the Suleiman Shah Brigade (also known as al-Amshat), the Sham Legion/Faihaq al-Sham and Ahrar al-Sharqiya made the rest of the arrests.

Most of the witnesses and locals met by STJ confirmed that the majority of arrests were conducted arbitrarily and didn’t follow the due process. As many of those arrested hadn’t been informed of charges against them by written notices or orally, contrary to the statements made by the former spokesman of the National Army that the arrests were carried out within the legal framework.<sup>3</sup>

<sup>1</sup> In its report on August 2, 2018, the Amnesty termed the presence of the Kurdish forces in Afrin an ‘occupation’. For more info: “Syria: Turkey must stop serious violations by allied groups and its own forces in Afrin”, Amnesty, August 2, 2018. (last visit: September 2, 2019)
